It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

STATE BANKING DEPARTMENT

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
Banking Department,
Lansing, December 31, 1907.

To the Honorable Fred M. Warner, Governor of Michigan:

I have the honor to submit the nineteenth annual report of this department in compliance with the provisions of section 43 of the General Banking Law of Michigan, as follows:

NUMBER OF STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

At the date of this report, there are three hundred twenty-nine State banks, six trust companies and one society for savings under the supervision of this department. In the statistics following the number of banks is given at 328 State banks. This is caused by one bank commencing business subsequent to December 3, the date of the last call for report of condition.

FINANCIAL CONDITION.

Statements showing the financial condition of all State banks and trust companies, as called for by this department four times during the year, in addition thereto reports of the financial condition of the 93 national banks of the State; as are also abstracts of the yearly reports for the past nineteen years, which show the progress and increasing wealth of the State.

EXAMINATIONS.

During the year 646 examinations have been made by the Department, all the banks having been examined twice, except those organized the latter part of the year, and trust companies, the statute governing the latter requiring but one examination. In several cases, I have deemed it necessary to make more than two examinations of certain banks during the year, in order to ascertain whether the requirements of the law were being observed, and the safety of the depositors' funds fully protected. The reports of the examiners have been carefully gone over and compared with previous examinations, so with the published reports made, five of which were required during the year, besides two reports of dividends and earnings, and the criticism resulting has been made the subject of communication with the respective banks. In some instances special reports have been called for during the year, while in other cases, daily reports have been required, to the end that the

STATE BANKING DEPARTMENT.

Department might be fully advised of the banks condition and whether progress was being made toward compliance with the banking law, the necessity for which having been previously pointed out by the Department.

In nearly every instance, the observance of the law and correction of irregularities requested by the Department, have been complied with promptly and willingly, and in but few cases has it been necessary to take drastic steps to bring about improved conditions.

IMPAIRMENT OF CAPITAL.

The capital of five banks was found by me to be impaired and an assessment on their stock, from fifty to one hundred per cent., was in each case ordered. These assessments have nearly all been collected and paid in, thus placing the banks effected on renewed and safe footing, fully protecting the depositors, which, in my opinion, should always be the first consideration of the Commissioner. These banks, on the discovery of their condition, could legally have been closed by the Commissioner, but such a course could not have been justified as being either wise or sane.

NEW BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Thirty-one State banks have been organized during the year, as follows:

INCREASE AND DECREASE OF CAPITAL STOCK.

Conforming to the requirements of section 10 of the banking law, the following banks have amended their articles of incorporation with reference to capital stock:

- The German American Bank, Detroit, $150,000 to $250,000.
- The Dime Savings Bank, Detroit, $250,000 to $500,000.
- The Bank of Saginaw, Saginaw, $200,000 to $400,000.
- The Superior Savings Bank, Hancock, $50,000 to $100,000.
- Cadillac State Bank, Cadillac, $50,000 to $100,000.
- Sparta State Bank, Sparta, $15,000 to $18,000.
- Boyne City State Bank, Boyne City, $25,000 to $50,000.
- People's Savings Bank of Cadillac, Cadillac, $50,000 to $75,000.
- Commercial Savings Bank of Grand Rapids, $200,000 to $100,000.
- St. Clair County Savings Bank, Port Huron, $50,000 to $100,000.
- State Bank of East Jordan, $20,000 to $50,000.
- Munising State Bank, Munising, $30,000 to $60,000.

The above constitutes an increase of $713,000. The increase in capital stock, on account of organization of new banks during the year, amounts to $2,355,000, making a total increase in capital stock for the year 1907, of $3,068,000. The failure of the Chelsea Savings Bank, Chelsea, and liquidations for the purpose of consolidations have caused a shrinkage in capital stock of $1,700,000, thus leaving the net increase at $1,368,000.

LIQUIDATIONS AND CONSOLIDATIONS.

The State Savings Bank, Detroit, and the People's Savings Bank, Detroit, were, on January 8, 1907, consolidated. This consolidation took the form of a new organization known as The People's State Bank, Detroit.

For the purpose of consolidating with the Bank of Saginaw, Saginaw, the stockholders of The Savings Bank of East Saginaw, Saginaw, on March 30, 1907, voted to go into liquidation. On April 19, 1907, the stockholders of the Bank of Saginaw, Saginaw, voted to consolidate with The Savings Bank of East Saginaw, Saginaw, such consolidation being consummated May 4, 1907.

EXTENSION OF CORPORATE EXISTENCE.

Acting in compliance with the provisions of act 143 of the Public Acts of 1899, the following banks have extended their corporate existence for the period of thirty years from and after the dates mentioned:

- Michigan Savings Bank, Detroit, February 19, 1907.
- Mount Clemens Savings Bank, Mount Clemens, May 30, 1907.

OTHER AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION.

The Saginaw County Savings Bank, Saginaw, by a vote of its stockholders taken on January 8, 1907, amended the original articles of incorporation so as to permit the transaction of both a commercial and savings bank business.

STATE BANKING DEPARTMENT.

NUMBER OF DEPOSITORS.

The total number of depositors in the 328 State banks and 93 National banks on December 1, 1907, was 847,695, as follows:

State banks, individual deposits subject to check.....	101,485
State banks, commercial certificates of deposit.....	35,964
State banks, savings depositors.....	423,504
State banks, savings certificates of deposit.....	100,197
National banks, individual deposits subject to check.....	129,825
National banks, certificates of deposit.....	56,720

The following table will show number of commercial depositors and savings depositors in the 328 State banks and 93 National banks, together with amount of deposit and average amount to each depositor:

Banks.	Class of deposit.	Number of depositors.	Amount of deposits.	Average to each depositor.
328 State banks.....	{ Commercial..	*137,449	$64,637,623.75	$472 00
93 National banks.....	Savings....	*523,701	134,923,712 46	257 00
	Commercial..	*186,545	84,864,150 47	454 00
Totals.....		847,695	$284,425,486 68	$335 00

*This includes certificates of deposits; several certificates issued to one person counted as one.

While the depositors in incorporated banks in Michigan have increased 99,506, yet the average to each depositor has been decreased about $47. This decrease is accounted for by the large increase in depositors, and the decrease in the total amount of deposits in the incorporated banks. Commercial deposits in state and national banks show a decrease for the year of $11,333,740.35, while savings deposits have increased in the same period $9,459,115.94. A comparison of the total deposits in the incorporated banks, however, shows a decrease of $1,874,624.38. This decrease in deposits occurred between the reports of August 22 and December 3, 1907, as the former report showed an increase over the last report made to the Department in 1906.

GROWTH OF STATE BANKS.

Since the organization of this department, 1889, the increase and growth of business has been very great. Loans show an increase of $167,925,801.67, and deposits, $174,038,068.20, as will be seen from the following statement:

Resources.	80 banks, Jan. 7, 1889.	301 State banks, 1 society for savings, 6 trust companies, Nov. 12, 1906.	328 State banks, 1 society for savings, 6 trust companies, Dec. 3, 1907.

Surplus fund and undivided profits...	1,818,835 53	13,257,818 42	14,814,594 75
Deposits.....	31,284,124 39	204,128,663 69	205,322,192 59

 Totals.....	 $38,900,770 88	 $236,764,589 99	 $242,041,114 48

*Includes clearing house certificates, $370,000 00.

Between the August 22 and December 3, 1907, reports, which was the most stringent period in our recent financial flurry, loans, discounts, bonds, mortgages and securities decreased $7,746,458.66, while commercial and savings deposits decreased $6,228,206.58 and $4,207,911.10, respectively. This constituted a total decrease in deposits for this period of $10,436,117.68. Notwithstanding this showing with reference to the decrease in deposits, the State banks of Michigan show a net increase in deposits for the year 1907 of $1,643,153.01. This net increase in deposits is the excess of gain in savings deposits over the decrease in commercial deposits, the former showing an increase for the year of $9,459,-115.97, while the latter showed a decrease of $7,815,962.96. The increase in loans for the year 1907 is $7,070,566.02.

RESERVE CITIES.

In accordance with the provisions of sections 24 and 27 of the banking law, I have designated for the year 1908 the following as reserve cities, viz.: Detroit, Grand Rapids, Bay City, Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Jackson, Port Huron, Adrian, Benton Harbor, Muskegon, Ann Arbor, Calumet, Marquette, Lansing, Alpena, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Buffalo, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Toledo, St. Louis, Chicago and Milwaukee.

INSOLVENT BANKS.

The Chelsea Savings Bank of Chelsea, was taken possession of by the Department December 2, 1907, the bank becoming insolvent on account of the financial operations of its president, Frank P. Glazier. On December 4, 1907, application was made to the circuit court for the county of Washtenaw by the Commissioner of the Banking Department, for the appointment of a receiver, and, on December 5, 1907, Mr. W. W. Wedemeyer was so appointed. On furnishing satisfactory bonds, the bank was promptly turned over to him on December 20, 1907. The

Soon after my appointment as Commissioner, I was made acquainted with the affairs of this bank and at once took steps to bring about the reduction of its excessive loans and otherwise improve its condition. By personal conversation with Mr. Glazier, and by correspondence, I urged upon him and the other officers of the bank the necessity for immediate action in that direction. With the information already given your Excellency, it is, no doubt, apparent to you that the bank was loaning its president, members of his family and the various companies with which he was connected, more excessively when I assumed the office than when, with the concurrence of the Attorney General, the bank was closed. The amount of Mr. Glazier's borrowings from his private bank at Stockbridge and from the several national banks, could not have been known to the Department, and it had no authority to require them to disclose such information had the extent of Mr. Glazier's financial operations been suspected. Until this information was disclosed at a meeting of the various creditors of both Mr. Glazier and the Glazier Stove Company, which was held at Detroit but a few days prior to the closing of the bank, there was no evidence of the insolvency of The Chelsea Savings Bank. Everyone regarded Mr. Glazier as amply responsible and worth much more than he was borrowing. In consequence, the only matters subject to criticism in the bank prior to the disclosures incident to the failure, over which the Department had authority, was the carelessness of the board of directors, excessive loans and the carrying of a large investment in foreign tax certificates. These matters had the constant and vigorous attention of the Department during the ten months of my supervision of the bank. As your Excellency has been already informed, the excessive loans during that period of time were reduced by more than $100,000.00, and while the investment in foreign tax certificates remained, it is conceded that they are among the most valuable assets of the bank.

The large deposit of State funds was not subject to my regulation, and was carried a long period of time prior to my becoming Commissioner, though I directed Mr. Glazier's attention to this matter and urged a reduction, receiving his assurance that the matter would be attended to.

I am free to say that the course pursued will result in a larger return to the depositors than if the bank had been summarily closed by me as soon as my attention was called to the status of its affairs. The circumstance of having the real condition of this bank laid bare to me, I assure you was not in any sense a welcome legacy, and it simply remained for me to make the best of a bad situation, and to endeavor to save to the depositors the largest amount possible.

Criticism has been made on the ground that the Chelsea Savings Bank should have been closed promptly by the Commissioner on discovering its condition rather than to have permitted it to continue, and that had that been done the financial operations of its president might have been averted. In answer to this criticism and others of like character, I wish to say that the causes resulting in Mr. Glazier's failure antedated my appointment as Commissioner. Had the course urged by those who criticise been adopted by me as the wisest to be followed, not only would the Chelsea Savings Bank have been closed, but with it at least five other institutions—as above noted, that are now in a safe and prosperous condition, the depositors of which are now fully protected in every sense. Therefore, I say, it is only those who are uninformed or do not care to be informed, who would criticise the course taken with reference to the Chelsea Savings Bank.

Much information in connection with this failure has already been placed in your hands by the Department. I wish to assure you, however, should your Excellency desire any other or further information relating thereto which the Department can furnish, the same will be gladly and promptly transmitted to the executive office for your consideration.

SALARIES.

In this connection I desire to call your attention to the examining force of this Department and the expenses in connection therewith, together with the income from the State from the fees charged the banks for the examinations made by this Department as enumerated above. The force in the Department consists of the Commissioner, Deputy Commissioner, eight Bank Examiners and an office force of four people. From the foregoing figures it is seen that the total expense to the State, over and above the amount it receives from banks in fees, is a little more than $6,000.00.

The State has been criticized by the bankers and other citizens for the small salaries paid our officers and examiners, and, as a rule, what has been said of the Department in this respect is true. The salaries are too low and in verification of this I desire to state that many of our examiners have, in the past, been employed in Detroit and elsewhere at a salary in every case nearly double the amount paid them when in the service of the State. It is my desire to select competent men for these positions and to make the selection with due regard to the peculiar ability of the man for the important duty he is to perform, and when men of character and ability are secured they should be retained in the service while they continue to grow strong in the performance of their official duty to the State. I do not over-estimate the value of the present force of examiners, and it will be my purpose in the future, as it has thus far been during my term of office, to seek to improve the service in every way possible, for by so doing I am safeguarding the interests of the depositors. The question of salaries, therefore, is an important one for future consideration.

Speaking for myself, I cannot allow the question of compensation to be referred to, for my duty to the people will be fully kept in mind during the performance of official service to the State, without regard to pecuniary consideration.

AMENDMENTS TO THE BANKING LAW.

The Legislature of 1907 amended section 15 of the Banking Law, making it mandatory upon the directors of each State bank to appoint an examining committee from among their number, or from among the stockholders, to examine, every six months, the affairs of their respective banks, requiring the report of such examination to be spread upon the directors' records and forwarded to the Commissioner of the Banking Department. I regard this as one of the most important amendments ever made to the present banking law, as anything tending to require greater diligence on the part of the directors in the management of the banks under their control works for the betterment of the bank, making violations of the statutes less likely. Such examinations are a guarantee to the Department that the assets examined and verified by its examiners, are bona fide, and that their character is thoroughly understood by the directors. This, in a large measure, corrects the difficulty heretofore experienced by the Department, in this, that the examiner being unacquainted with local credit lines and securities was unable to ascertain and report the value of many of the assets of the bank examined.

Generally speaking, our banks are under careful and active management by the directors, though there are instances where the directors have been chosen simply because of their financial standing and prominence and the trust accepted, while as a board in the management of the bank they are practically dormant, permitting the banks' affairs to be conducted by merely the executive officer. It is easy, in such cases, for an officer of a bank who may be so disposed, to borrow excessively from the institution, either through the medium of members of his family or friends, the legal authorization being given by directors unmindful of their duty or entirely subservient to his wishes and direction. Such violations are usually difficult for the examiners to detect since, on the face of the transaction, everything may appear regular and legal. To correct this practice, the law should be made more adequate and stringent.

Another requirement of the law would seem to be advisable, i. e., making it necessary that a majority or quorum of the board of directors reside in the city, village or township where the bank is located. Where the majority of the directors are non-residents, infrequent and irregular meetings are the result, and, in consequence the directors are not as fully informed of the banks' affairs as would otherwise be the case.

The banking department can only exercise its functions in the detection of violations of the law, so far as that is possible, and require compliance with it; the duty of a board of directors is to see that no violations of the law occur and to see to it that the banks' affairs are safely and honestly transacted.

When the bank is in the hands of a competent and safe board of directors it has little need, if any, for State supervision, for under such conditions banks seldom, if ever, fail.

TRUST COMPANIES.

The Trust Companies of this State are under the management of competent and responsible officers and directors and their statements show growth and development.

The present law authorizing and regulating the business of trust companies, however, should be entirely repealed and another law passed, more specifically prescribing their rights, powers and limitations. As the law now stands it is difficult to know what business such a company may not do, and what investments it may not make. Trust Companies receiving money on deposit should be required to carry the same reserve that savings banks now do, and the same authority should be given the Commissioner of the Banking Department in their supervision. that he now has over banks.

CONCLUSION.

Generally, the financial institutions under the supervision of the Banking Department, can be said to be in excellent condition. On the whole they show a substantial increase of business for the year. The recent financial flurry was withstood in a most splendid manner, leaving the confidence of the public undisturbed. Both the bankers and the public deserve much credit; the former for their able management of their banks, the latter for their splendid display of confidence in the integrity of our institutions. Every indication points toward normal conditions. Business generally is improving, the employment of labor is increasing, all of which is most promising for the coming year.

The foregoing report is most respectfully submitted.

OPINIONS OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

OPINIONS OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

On account of the importance of the subject of excessive loans I deem it advisable to again publish the construction of section 52 of the Banking Law in this regard as submitted to this department by the Attorney General in the year 1903:

Lansing, Mich., May 23, 1903.

Hon. George W. Moore, Commissioner of Banking, Lansing, Michigan:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your communication of the 19th inst. referring to the General Banking Law of this State, and requesting my opinion upon the following questions:

"First, How much money may the directors of a bank loan to any person, or company, or corporation, or firm, by a two-thirds vote of its board of directors?

Second, How much money may any bank loan on any one line of commercial paper?

Third, May a bank increase the first named line of the bond or personal endorsement of the officers or directors of a firm, company or corporation, or by the assignment of value as collateral?"

In considering these questions I desire to call your attention to section 6141 of the Compiled Laws, being section 52 of the General Banking Law of this State, which provides in part as follows: "The total liabilities to any bank of any person or of any company, corporation or firm for moneys advanced, including in the liabilities of the company or firm the liability of the several members thereof, except special partners, shall at no time exceed one-tenth part of the amount of the capital and surplus of such bank; but the discount of bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actually existing values and the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same shall not be considered as money borrowed: Provided, however, That the foregoing limitations shall not apply to loans on real estate or other collateral securities authorized by this act: Provided, however, That by a two-thirds vote of the directors the liabilities of any bank of any person, or company, or corporation, or firm may be increased to a sum not exceeding one-fifth of the capital and surplus of the bank."

It is evident that this limitation was borrowed from the National Banking Law, section 5200 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, providing as follows: "The total liabilities to any association, or any person, or of any company, corporation, or firm for money borrowed, including in the liabilities of the company or firm, the liabilities of the several members thereof, shall at no time exceed one-tenth part of the amount of the capital stock of such association actually paid in; but the discount of bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actually existing values, and the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same, shall not be considered as money borrowed."

This provision, as found in our General Banking Law and also in the National Banking Law, has never been construed by the courts in so far as it relates to the particular question submitted by you.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in the case of O'Hare v. Second National Bank of Titusville, 77 Pa. St. 102, referring to this provision in its application to National banks, makes use of the following language: "Evidently the limitation of the indebtedness to the one-tenth in the 29th section, was intended as a general rule for conducting the business of the bank; a rule laid down from experience to regulate its loans for its own best interest and those of stockholders and creditors, not a rule to regulate its customers. It was, as remarked in Fowler v. Scully, a regulation to prevent these associations from splitting on the rock which has ruined so many banks, to wit, that of lending too much of their capital to one person or firm. The intention being to protect the association and its stockholders and creditors from unwise banking, we cannot suppose it was meant to injure them by forbidding recovery of the injudicious loans."

In Vol. 29 of the Amer. & Eng. Ency. of Law, 2nd ed. p. 382, we find the following with respect to the limitation found in the National Banking Law: "The object of this provision of the statute was to guard National banks from the hazard of speculative loans, but it contemplated and permitted to an unlimited amount the discount of paper used and required in facilitating the transfer of property and money in the transaction of the legitimate business of the country." Citing Oswego Second National Bank v. Burt, 93 N. Y. 244.

It was evidently the intent of the Legislature, in enacting the provision above referred to, as found in the banking law of this State, to guard the banks organized thereunder from the hazard of speculative loans, and to prevent such banks from advancing or loaning too much of their money to any one person, firm or corporation, and in construing the statute with respect to the exception, it is necessary to keep constantly in mind the purpose of the limitation, and not to construe the provision relating to the exceptions therefrom in such a way as to destroy the force and effect of the limitation itself. The exceptions to which I refer relate to the discount of bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actually existing values, and the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same, and which, in my opinion, should be strictly construed and should be held to apply to no transaction that did not clearly and fully come within the provisions of the statute in this particular. Black on Interpretation of Laws, 275.

I find that the questions which you submit for my consideration are quite fully considered in Pratt's Digest, pages 93-94-95, in their application to National banks, but I am unable to concur in some of the conclusions reached which do not seem to be based upon judicial decisions, and which, in my opinion, tend to defeat the very purpose of the limitation. It is an elementary proposition recognized by the courts with respect to statutory or constitutional inhibitions, that you cannot do indirectly that which you are prohibited from doing directly. In their application to commercial paper, the terms "loans" and "discounts" are synonymous. Amer. & Eng. Ency. of Law, Vol. 21, 2nd ed. 381. The question who is borrower is not always to be determined from the position of the parties as they appear on the paper. The borrower may be the maker or the endorser. Pratt's Digest, 94. Our statute provides that in the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same, it shall not be considered as money borrowed. The application of this provision, in my opinion, relates exclusively to the person negotiating the paper. The statute contemplates that he alone shall be considered as not receiving a loan from the bank. With respect to the maker of such paper who is primarily liable, if such maker has received credit at the bank to the full limit imposed by law, the bank should not be permitted to discount such paper, as in that event the liability of the maker would exceed the liability permitted by the General Banking Law, and if such a transaction should be permitted, it would indirectly defeat the very purpose for which this limitation was imposed.

In determining the questions submitted by you, I realize that there may be some doubt as to the proper construction of these provisions in the absence of any judicial determination as to their proper meaning. In view of the fact that the several banks of this State organized under the General Banking Law, are subject to State supervision, not only for the protection of the banks themselves, but for the protection of the persons doing business with such banks, the laws relating thereto should be construed in such a manner as to afford such protection in every possible way, until such time as the courts may determine otherwise.

In answer to your first question, I would therefore say that, in my opinion, the amount which the directors of a bank would be authorized to loan to any person, or company, or corporation, or firm, by a two-thirds vote of its board of directors, would not exceed one-fifth of the capital and surplus of the bank, and it would be immaterial whether such loan was secured or unsecured, excepting, of course, loans on real estate or other collateral securities authorized by the General Banking Law.

In answer to your second question, I would say that the same rule would apply to any one line of commercial paper that would apply to any one person, company, firm or corporation.

In answer to your third question I would say that, in my opinion, it is immaterial whether such loan is secured by the bond or personal endorsement of the officers or directors of the firm, company or corporation, or by the assignment of value as collateral, except where such loan is made upon real estate or other collateral securities recognized by the General Banking Law. In this connection I call your attention to the rule laid down in the Amer. & Eng. Ency. of Law, Vol. 21, 2nd ed., page 382, to the effect that "Drafts may be bona fide bills of exchange drawn upon actual existing values within the meaning of the statute, though not accompanied by specific bills of lading in each case. It is sufficient if they are drawn against property previously consigned and existing either in its original form or in the shape of proceeds of sales in the hands of the consignees." This rule, of course, applies to the federal statute. The State and federal statute being identical in this particular, unquestionably the same rule would apply to a bank organized under the General Banking Law of this State.

Respectfully yours,

CHAS. A. BLAIR,

Attorney General.

The following opinions have been rendered during the year by the Attorney General's Department on questions concerning the construction of the Banking Law:

Lansing, Michigan, March 21, 1907.

Hon. Henry M. Zimmermann, Banking Commissioner, Lansing, Mich.:

Dear Sir—This Department has given careful consideration of your inquiry of the 13th inst. as to whether trust companies organized under Act No. 108 of the Public Acts of 1889 have the right to invest in the stocks of Savings Banks; and particularly to the question as to whether section 11 of this act (Compiled Laws of 1897, Section 6166) permits such investment.

It is the opinion of this Department that there is no general right under the laws of this State on the part of trust companies to invest in the stock of other corporations; and, further, that the clause in section 11 of the above act, which authorizes the directors to invest in "such real or personal securities as they may deem proper" does not authorize investment in the stock of private corporations.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN E. BIRD,

Attorney General.

Lansing, Michigan, August 7, 1907.

Hon. Henry M. Zimmermann, Commissioner State Banking Department,
"Capitol," Lansing:

Dear Sir—It appears that steps are being taken to organize a bank under the General Banking Law of this State, with a capital stock of $100,000. From the articles of association which have been prepared, it appears that, approximately, sixty per cent. of such capital stock has been subscribed for by certain persons designated as "trustees"; that such articles do not disclose the names or residences of the cestui que trust in any instance, or the authority of the person subscribing as trustee to act in that capacity.

In this connection, you ask my opinion as to whether or not it would be proper for you to issue the certificate of authority provided for by section 7 of the General Banking Law.

In reply thereto would say that section 2 of the Banking Law requires the persons associating in the organization of a bank to execute articles of incorporation, which shall specify, among other things, "the names and places of residence of the stockholders and the number of shares held by each of them." The latter part of section 4 provides as follows: "No bank shall transact any business except such as is incidental and necessarily preliminary to its organization until it has been authorized by the Commissioner of the Banking Department to commence the business of banking." The articles of incorporation are required to be executed in triplicate, one to be recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the bank is located; one filed in the office of the Commissioner of the Banking Department; and one filed in the office of the Secretary of State. When such articles of incorporation are properly executed and filed and recorded, as required by law, and the Commissioner of the Banking Department is notified that at least fifty per cent. of its capital has been paid in, and that such bank has complied with all the provisions of the general banking law; before the bank shall be authorized to commence business, the Commissioner is required to examine into the condition of such bank, and if it is found that such organization is in accordance with the statute and that the various provisions of the law have been complied with, a certificate of authority to engage in the business of banking is issued by such Commissioner. When the statute is not complied with in any essential particular, it is clearly my opinion that such certificate of authority should be withheld. It seems to me that articles of incorporation which do not fully disclose the name and residence of the cestui que trust, where the stock is subscribed for by a trustee, and which also fails to disclose the authority to subscribe for such stock in that capacity, do not conform to the requirements of the general banking law, and, under such conditions as you have outlined, it would be your duty to refuse to issue the certificate of authority provided for by law.

I do not deem it essential to point out the numerous complications that might arise if stock in a banking corporation should be subscribed for in the manner indicated. It is sufficient to say that it does not conform to the requirements of the general banking law.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN E. BIRD,

Attorney General.

Lansing, Michigan, October 23, 1907.

Hon. H. M. Zimmermann, Commissioner of the Banking Department,
"Capitol," Lansing, Michigan:

My Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your communication of the 16th inst. in which you ask whether or not certificates of indebtedness issued in payment for voting machines under the provisions of section 13 of Act 217 of the Public Acts of 1905 are proper investments for savings banks under subdivision (b), section 27 of the General Banking Law, which provides that a certain portion of the savings deposits of such banks shall be invested as follows:

"(b). In the public debt or bonds of any city, county, township, village or school district of any state or territory in the United States, which shall have been authorized by the legislature of such state or territory: Provided, The total indebtedness of such municipality does not exceed five per cent. of its assessed valuation, except by a vote of two-thirds of the board of directors, such bonds may be purchased if the total liabilities do not exceed ten per cent. of its assessed valuation."

You also state that it has always been the ruling of the Banking Department that the term "public debt" and "bonds" were synonymous and that an issue of bonds, in order to be a proper investment for savings banks under this subdivision, must previously have received the approval of the voters of the municipality issuing the bonds.

For answer to your inquiry I would say it is my opinion that the ruling of your department places too narrow a construction upon the statute. The terms "public debt" and "bonds" are not synonymous. The term "public debt" includes not only a bonded debt, but also other forms of public indebtedness.

State v. Hickman, 11 Mont. 541, and cases cited.

The statute under which certificates of indebtedness are issued in payment for voting machines reads as follows:

"The local authorities, on the adoption and purchase of a voting machine, may provide for the payment therefor in such manner as they may deem for the best interest of the locality and may for that purpose issue bonds, certificates of indebtedness or other obligations, which shall be a charge on the city, town or village. Such bonds, certificates or other obligations may be issued with or without interest, payable at such time or times as the authorities may determine, but shall not be issued or sold at less than par."

The legislature has the undoubted right to authorize debts of this character to be incurred without the vote of the electors of the municipality.

Callan v. The City of Saginaw, 50 Mich. 7.

I am of the opinion that the certificates of indebtedness issued under authority of this section come within the term "public debt" as used in subdivision (b), section 27 of the General Banking Law, and that, consequently, savings banks may lawfully invest their funds in such certificates of indebtedness.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN E. BIRD,

Attorney General.

Lansing, Michigan, October 28, 1907.

Hon. H. M. Zimmermann, Commissioner of the Banking Department,
Lansing, Mich.:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your communication of the 16th inst. requesting an opinion upon the question of whether or not a bank organized as a purely commercial bank under the General Banking Law of the State is authorized to advertise for savings deposits and do a general bank business under the exception contained in section 24 of that law, which provides:

"Commercial banks may allow interest on accounts or certificates of deposit, but all deposits in such banks shall be payable on demand without notice, except when the contract of deposit otherwise provides."

For answer thereto, I would say that the General Banking Law in section 1 provides that any number of persons, not less than five, "may associate to establish offices of discount and deposit, to be known as commercial banks, and also to establish offices of loan and deposit to be known as savings banks, or to establish banks having departments for both classes of business," etc.

Under section 2 of the General Banking Law, the articles of incorporation are required to specify the nature of the business to be carried on, whether that of a commercial bank, savings bank, or both. Sections 23, 24 and 25 of the same law contain certain provisions referring to "any bank which, by its articles of incorporation, shall designate its business as that of a commercial bank;" and section 26 and succeeding sections of the same law contain provisions governing "any bank which by its articles of incorporation shall designate its business as that of a savings bank;" and section 29 contains provisions governing "any bank combining the business of a commercial bank and a savings bank" and provides that "all receipts, investments and transactions relating to each of said classes of business shall be governed by the provisions and restrictions herein specifically provided for the respective kinds of banks."

Reading all these provisions of the General Banking Law together, it is clear that it was not intended to permit a bank organized as a strictly commercial bank to engage in the business of a savings bank, and that the exception contained in section 24, to which reference has been made, was not intended to have that effect. Before a commercial bank, organized as such, can conduct a savings bank business, it must amend its articles of incorporation so as to provide for conducting both classes of business.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN E. BIRD,
Attorney General.
